Allen Solly now in Ranchi

13 May 2011

Allen Solly launched its flagship store in Ranchi today. The store located at Ranchi Main Road is one of its biggest store in Ranchi and is an indication of East region's growing importance in brand's distribution strategy.

The new store spread across 1800sq ft store is in line with Allen Solly's new brand direction and a completely revamped Retail identity.

The store has a young, cool and casual feel to it quite like the clothes inside. Given the evolving Indian consumer, a very international appeal has been given to with its range of fixtures, mannequins, lighting and music.

"Allen Solly has always believed in breaking conventions. The brand has been given a young and a casual feel recently and we felt it was time to take it closer to consumers in Ranchi. We are confident Ranchi will lap up the new and vibrant Allen Solly", says Sooraj Bhat, Brand Head, Allen Solly.

Allen Solly has witnessed high growth in the East in the concluded financial year, its growth doubling every year. The fact that Allen Solly has opened 3 new stores in east in the last 2 months- Kolkatta, Durgapur and Ranchi, is also a peak into the brand's expansion plans in the east this year. "We have found our consumers in East to be fairly brand centric", says Sooraj Bhat.

Sooraj Bhat elucidates, "We have renovated our showrooms to reflect the new identity and the new store in Ranchi reflects this identity.

Allen Solly's retail presence has also strengthened over the years, having grown more than 300% in retail area over the last 3 years.

Allen Solly – a brand that redefines conventions

Launched in 1993, Allen Solly created ripples in the Indian market by releasing the rules in corporate dress code. It arguably is the only brand that has truly redefined modern Indian's wardrobe. It trashed whites and greys thereby making the corporate world a colourful and vibrant place.
Originating from the large portfolio of international brands of Coats Viyella – UK, Allen Solly truly has been the brand that redefined modern Indian's wardrobe. During early 1990s, everyone in India was wearing conventional greys, whites, blues, and pin stripes to office. With liberalization and growing exposure to international trends, market was ripe for some excitement. It was then Allen Solly brought in its concept of Relaxed Formal Wear to India – bold and bright colours, concepts and patterns. The brand then went a step further, launching a collection of shirts and trousers called 'The Uncrushables' – a wrinkle-free wardrobe in an unconventional 'solid' palette.

Friday Dressing as it was called, Allen Solly's line was targeted at young, contemporary corporate who was ready to challenge conventions and create his own identity. It encouraged young office goers to become slightly more relaxed and cheerful.

Today, the brand appeals to that section of consumers who are young and want to create their own world. Offering clothing that spans casual, work and evening wear, the brand’s personality is well-reflected through its 'My World, My Way' campaign.

Allen Solly has several product innovations to its credit and loyal consumers swear by the brand's comfortable and fashionablyStyled cotton trousers and bright, colourful shirts.

And the brand is not only for men. Allen Solly's nod to women in the workforce came in 2001, when the brand came out with a line of women's formal wear. A few years later, they rewrote their own rules again, by bringing in their casual chic collection for women. Allen Solly's apparel is well known for its superior quality and it has consistently won industry awards and consumer recognition for its clothing.

Over the years the brand has evolved to achieve a high fashion quotient and appeal through its exciting, Young, fashionable merchandise and aspirational imagery. The brand continues to remain true to its promise and has expanded categories to encompass all occasions in life-Work to casual to party.

Marketing Campaigns
Known for its path breaking and aspirational advertising campaigns, Allen Solly has continued to wow the consumers by releasing advertising campaigns that are stylish, differentiated (communicating the unconventionality quotient), unisex and completely lifestyle driven.

To reflect the change in positioning, the brand changed its brand campaigns. In 2009, the brand launched its famous "I Hate Ugly "campaign targeting the youth. The basic proposition was to reflect the irreverent, non-compromising attitude of youth towards life. This communication struck a chord with the consumers and critics. Allen Solly also changed the tagline to " My World , My Way " to reflect the new brand proposition. My World , My Way reflects the strong individualistic view of the youngsters who own their world and create their own rules. It evolved to I HATE YESTERDAY for AW'10 in line with the brand's core thought.
